

Monday, November 20, 2006

➤ MAIN SECT

FINANCIAL TIMES

Front Page
News
Editorial
Opinion
Financial Times
Sports
Features
Mirror Life
Obituaries

JobsNet continues partnership with Neptune Publications

The 2nd edition of the Education Guide Sri Lanka is in circulation now. This is a comprehensive Directory of information, on Education and related services available in Sri Lanka.

➤ GROUP SIT

The Sunday Times
Hi!! Magazine
Wijeya
Pariganaka

The publication is available in Sinhala, English and Tamil. This is a useful resource for students, parents, teachers and student counselors particularly in identifying opportunities and Career paths available in the country. The educational facilities from the pre-school stages to Post-Graduate level are listed in detail in the directory. The publication carries information about the local school education system, university and vocational education system both in the Public/State and the private sector. It goes onto provide useful, generally unexplored areas available for alternate paths in education through a Career path flow chart.

The 2nd edition has a new feature on Career path selection and covers 14 different areas of education ranging from Accountancy and Finance to Creative and Visual arts to Natural and Applied sciences. This book is published by Neptune Publications (pvt) Ltd in association of JobsNet.

Archives

JobsNet support for the publication is its recognition of the importance of making information available to the deserving public, on the many educational opportunities available in Sri Lanka. Skilled Human Resource is an important economic driver, for any country today, and knowledge on where to go and what is available is still fairly unknown to the general public. The Education Guide Sri Lanka provides a comprehensive and useful directory in disseminating this information.